Looking for a new VR gaming headset, but don't want to break the bank? Check out the Oculus Rift DK2 with Touch (Review), which is a perfect way to get yourself started with VR. The Rift with Touch is a compelling VR headset for the same reasons that the HTC Vive is. We've got controllers and a room-scale experience. There are obviously some limitations, but having these in my own virtual reality has been a transformative experience. Without the need of being tethered with cables I can play games wherever I am. It's very exciting! Like any new innovation or tech there are going to be a few hurdles to jump. It's up to us to encourage developers to develop better, bigger and better experiences. Oculus Rift (was developed by Oculus VR, the Facebook company created and backed by Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg. Like with the Vive, the Oculus Rift will also have motion controllers, controllers which detect your motions and detect the games world. For a game to work, they'll have to make use of the motion controllers with the headset. While the Vive has a wide range of games available, the Rift has a small selection available right now, including Tilt Brush by Google. The Rift with Touch will also include hand controllers. Similar to the controllers of the Xbox 360, these take a bit of getting used to, but they also greatly enhance the experience of many games. If you want to know what's in the box, check out the post below. All that is included in the box is the Oculus Rift headset and hand controllers. I found a 4K Sony TV to be the best way to experience the Rift, as it has better picture quality and the screen is not restricted to the resolution of the games. The spacebar is used to teleport around the game or the environment. The cursor works like a standard mouse, but it's only activated if you have your hands in the controllers. When you start the Rift, it's going to ask you to pair your headset with the PC or the phone. You room How are the Baked Goods Treatments Working for Breast Cancer Patients? I'm the founder of the Qualia's Sweets craftroom and I'm a survivor of breast cancer. I am a certified health counselor & life coach. I am trained in all types of massage and in Hypnotherapy. I use my Qualia's Sweets craftroom to help cancer patients & to help women cope with cancer treatments. I got my first cancer diagnosis in 1996, and when I was diagnosed in 2004, no one told me ANYTHING about the emotional/mental aspect of cancer to help get me through. I did hear a few people talk about this; doctors, nurses, friends. When was your last mammogram? Do you have a family history of breast cancer? How was your last mammogram? Did you get a breast ultrasound? When was your last breast exam? Do you have a family history of ovarian cancer? Do you have a family history of any type of cancer? Have you been feeling ok? What Qualia's Sweets Treatments Are Available For Other Types Of Cancer Patients? There are many types of cancer patients: people who are survivors, people who are new to cancer treatment, people who are trying to cope with a new cancer diagnosis, people who live daily with breast cancer, people who may be going through a colorectal cancer treatment, people who are parents of a child with cancer, people who live with ovarian cancer, people who have a partner with cancer, etc. What Should I Know about Qualia's Sweets Treatments? I'd love to introduce Qualia's Sweets treatment to you; a unique combination of Medical Massage, Reflexology, Complementary Healing, Neuro-linguistic Programming and other forms of Bodywork, and more. Qualia's Sweets; Comfort Through Luxury Recipes for Anyone's Oncology Patients. My original recipes for treats were a combination of traditional foods like Pumpkin Pie, Chocolate Chip Cookies, Butter Cake and other typical cancer treatments like Hot Chocolate, Roasted Peanuts, Pumpkin Ice Cream, etc. My heart was on the right track; cancer patient comfort food. I had a store at our local farmer's market and I invited a few friends to come and get a taste of my creations. I knew something was brewing. It was there I became aware of just how many cancer patients were craving more than just comfort food; they were asking for Dessert
